

Dear friends,

We so appreciate your continued support through this time of transition for our family.

- Praise God for His perfect care and provision. We are continually reminded of His goodness to us.
- The kids are still adjusting... needing friends. Still praying that Kai will be able to attend the local elementary school. (Then she won't need to ride the bus to school and can meet other kids in our neighborhood.)
- We're still visiting churches and seeking God's guidance in where we can best plug in.
- Lara's been interviewing for jobs in the area- pray that she'll have wisdom in choosing the one that will best fit her skills, aptitude, and time.
- David's in seminary and has begun sharing at missions conferences and churches. Pray that he will be able to balance his time well.
- Pray for us as we decide how to continue with OMF beyond our home assignment (ends December 31st). There are various options we're considering.

Lara will be in Hawaii October 22-30th; David will be in New York November 7-16th. We'd love to connect with those of you in those locations!

Thank you for your prayers!
